もっとも適当なものを①~④の中から1つずつ選びなさい。

(A)

Millions of people are using *mobile phones today. In many places it is actually considered unusual not to use one. However, some doctors are concerned that in the future many people may suffer health problems from the use of mobile phones. Of course, mobile phone companies are worried that many people may think mobile phones are harmful. They say that there is no proof that mobile phones are bad for your health.

On the other hand, some medical studies show changes in the brain of some people who use mobile phones. Signs of change in the brain can be found with modern machines. In one case, a salesperson had to retire at a young age because of serious memory loss. He couldn't remember even simple tasks. He would often forget the name of his own son. This man used to talk on his mobile phone for about six hours a day for a couple of years on his job.

What makes mobile phones harmful? The answer is radiation. Mobile phone companies agree that there is some radiation, but they say the amount is too small to worry about.

As the discussion about their safety continues, it's best to use mobile phones less often. Use your regular phone if you want to talk for a long time. Use your mobile phone only when you really need it. Mobile phones can be very useful and convenient, especially in emergencies. In the future, mobile phones may have a warning label that says they are bad for your health. So for now, it's not wise to use your mobile phone too often.

*mobile phones : 携帯電話 radiation : 放射線

(B)

All successful companies need a top *management that is powerful. This top management's responsibilities will cover the a[① entire ② small ③ big ④ heavy] organization's direction. It will have to take charge of the management of people and money. It will represent the company to the outside world and manage the relationship b[① against ② for ③ by ④ with] the government, the public, the media, and organized labor.

The most important task for top management will be to c[① deny ② balance ③ clean ④ destroy] the three sides of the company: as an economic organization, as a human organization, and as a social organization. The German model of the "social market economy" d[① uses ② sees ③ puts ④ wins] the stress on the social side, the Japanese model on the human side, and the American model on the economic side.

None of the three is enough on its own. The German model achieved both economic success and social balance, but created a dangerous labor-market. The Japanese model was successful for twenty years, but no longer. The American model is also struggling. It is one model that works well only in times of growth. The company can perform its human and social duties only if it grows as a business. But, now that knowledge workers are becoming key e[① employees ② employers ③ employs ④ employment], a company also needs to be a proper employer to be successful.

*management : 経営陣・管理
