When I was a child, it snowed heavily on *Christmas Eve. My mother sat by my bed and answered my question, “Yes, of course, Bobby. If you are a good boy, Santa will certainly visit our house and bring you a present.” I tried to ask her more, but she softly touched my lips with her finger. And then, she slowly kept on talking in a gentle voice until I fell asleep. “Well, Santa will probably be thirsty. And his **reindeer will be hungry. So I will put out a glass of milk for Santa and some carrots for his friends. Then, they can take a rest when they visit our house. And they will ....”

The next morning, there was a toy bear under the small Christmas tree. When I looked at the table, the glass of milk was empty and the carrots were gone. Santa Claus had really come!

*Christmas Eve : クリスマス前夜      **reindeer : トナカイ

a. Perhaps Bobby’s question was

- ① “Will Santa Claus come to our house?”
- ② “Will it be fine tomorrow?”
- ③ “Will you give me a Christmas present?”

b. Bobby’s mother touched his lips with her finger to make him

- ① drink some milk.
- ② stay awake.
- ③ stop talking.
