[18] Question a. Woman: What time will you come home from work tomorrow?

Man: I have a meeting at five o'clock, so I'll be home around seven.

Why?

Woman: We could go out for dinner.

Man: Sounds great, but I need to get back home by nine.

Question: What time will the man come back from work tomorrow?

19 Question b. Woman: Excuse me. I'd like to go to the train station by bus. Is this the right place to catch one?

Man: Yes, but it won't be here for an hour.

Woman: I see. Is there somewhere I can get breakfast while I wait?

Man: Oh, yes. Over there.

Question: What will the woman probably do next?

Question c. Man: Hey, I didn't see you at school yesterday. Where were you?

Woman: Oh, I had to go to our city hall to take part in a speech contest.

Man: That's why you've looked so busy lately. How did you do?

Woman: All the speakers were good, but I won second prize.

Question: Why has the woman been busy lately?

21 Question d. Man: Good afternoon. May I help you?

Woman: Excuse me. I lost my purse this morning. It's black with a red ribbon. Has anyone found it?

Man: Let me see. Yes, please go to the Information Center.

Woman: Thank you very much. I'll go right away.

Question: What was the woman's problem?

22 Question e. Man: How was the movie you saw with Tom yesterday?

Woman: I enjoyed it, but he didn't.

Man: Why not?

Woman: He said people were chatting during the movie, so he couldn't follow the story. I didn't notice them myself.

Question: Which statement is true about this conversation?

25 26

A bucket list is a list of things someone wants to experience before dying. It's essentially a set of goals that people create to remind themselves to live life to the fullest.

Many people have fun or exciting activities on their bucket list, like surfing or skydiving. Others include places or things they want to see, like the Great Wall of China or the Niagara Falls. Some people decide on things they want to achieve, like learning a new language or finishing a classic novel. Others want to do things that are valuable and that will make a positive difference in the world.

Laura Lawson is only 23, but she has already done half of the 333 items on her bucket list. She's eaten an insect, visited Las Vegas, and gone skydiving.

Bucket lists are very personal. The items on them don't have to be expensive to be worth doing. Perhaps the best bucket lists balance experiencing the world, trying new things, and improving oneself.

Scott: Hello, Keiko. How are you?

Keiko: Hi, Scott. I'm fine, thank you. You look so happy today. Did something good happen?
Scott: Yes. I booked a flight home yesterday. I'll be able to get home for Christmas for the first time in three years!

Keiko: That's great! You must miss your family in the U.S. very much.

Scott: Well, not so much because I often talk to them on the Internet. We use a video phone system.

Keiko: Oh, I see.

Scott: But I still miss my mom's cooking. I'm looking forward to her Christmas dinner.

Keiko: That sounds wonderful! Doesn't your father cook?

Scott: He does, and so do my brother and sisters. Still, mom is the best cook in the family.

Keiko: I hope someday to taste your mom's cooking.

Scott: Why don't you come to my house in the U.S. after you enter university? All my family know I'm well looked after by everyone in Japan, so I'm sure you'll be welcomed.

Keiko: Wow, that's good to know. I will! But first, I must study hard to pass the entrance exam.

Scott: That's right. If you have a strong will, you can make it.

Keiko: Thank you, Scott. I'll do my best.

Alex: Happy New Year, Yuki!

Yuki : Hi, Alex. Happy New Year! Did you have a good time during the winter vacation? Alex : Yes, my family and I visited my grandparents in New York. We visited many places during our two-week stay. We also enjoyed buying gifts in the stores.

Alex: I'll show you some of my photos. Look! This is a famous Christmas tree.

Yuki: I've never been to America. Tell me about Christmas in New York.

Yuki: Wow, it's so beautiful! I saw it on TV.

Alex: Every year, they put up a tree for Christmas. A lot of people gather around. You can see many people in my photo, right?

Yuki: That's true. I want to experience a traditional American Christmas one day.

Alex: You may be surprised to know that many people in New York say, "Happy Holidays," instead of "Merry Christmas."

Yuki: Why? A lot of Japanese people say "Merry Christmas!"

Alex: Because New York is a city where there are many different cultures. People from various countries live there and some don't believe in Christmas. "Happy Holidays" is a greeting everyone can use. Anyway, most people still look forward to seeing the tree and to Christmas time.

Yuki: Thank you for telling me. I want to visit New York someday.
